Lower Merion Set For Season's Opener

Strong Array of Backs Will Be Available For Berwyn Game the 28th.

SCHEDULE IS GIVEN

Only one more week now and Lower Merion will be in the thick of another football season. After scrimmaging his first team squad for a couple of days this week Coach Adam is about ready to pick his starting eleven which will line up against Berwyn High School a week from tomorrow.

In the back field, the Maroon can well depend on the four boys who are likely to get the first call, barring any injuries or upsets, and the followers of the Main Line institution will be as proud of their work this year as they have of any of the luminaries of the past three or four years. Captain Perk Scott is sure to be the fullback and do some heavy line crashing on the offense, and he is sure to be the boy who will stop any obstreperous opponents from advancing across the line of scrimmage into the territory which he guards. Tip Peters, Narberth's pride, will again be the main ball totter, and those who saw his flashing work last season will expect some first-class backfield maneuvering from him this year. Keith Parks is a dependable back and his generalship in calling plays will come in handy again. The last of the list, but not the least, is Al Mandes, who has improved greatly in all-around ability, and his open field running against the scrubs has shown a versatility on his part that was lacking last fall. These four backfield men possess all the necessary punch to carry Lower Merion through a successful season.

Warren Lockwood and George Hansell are ready to take care of the wing positions. Both of these boys are seniors and have had plenty of experience. Lockwood has shown considerable ability in snapping forward passes, and Hansell is not far behind him in this accomplishment. In Seaver Rose, Coach Adam has a 200-pounder who can plug up quite a wide area at right tackle. Shorty Latta, who came to Lower Merion from Episcopal Academy, is another handy tackle who will probably be called upon to start the season. Latta is more experienced than Rose, which makes up for his lack in pounce. Andy McLaughlin and Bob Lambert are two husky guards who are fast on attack and deadly on defense. Al D'Amora, moved over from end, is doing well at center, and will improve as the season advances. His passing is not so good so far, but his steadiness will stand him in good stead in the thick of battle.

While this line-up is not a veteran one in all respects, and while it lacks somewhat in weight, the boys seem to have the right morale this year and they are training hard to make a successful start next week. Captain Scott is a popular leader and one who will

Cynwyd Girl Winner of Bryn Mawr Prize

Miss Lelia Brodersen, 336 Llandrillo Road, Cynwyd, was announced this week to be the winner of the Bryn Mawr College matriculation prize, given that student from Pennsylvania and the Southern States making the highest grades in the college entrance examinations.

Miss Brodersen, who is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. O. Charles Brodersen, took her preparatory course at the Baldwin School, Bryn Mawr.

Old St. David's Church, Radnor, Founded by Welsh Colonists, Celebrated Its 215th Anniversary Sunday

At first no pews were built in the church and each member of the congregation supplied seats for his family. Later floor space was rented and each family had a pew built.

Many men prominent in the history of the country lie buried in the graveyard which surrounds the church. Among them is General Anthony Wayne, whose body was taken to the churchyard from a former burial place in 1809.

The Rev. William Currie, who was rector at the outbreak of the Revolution, was buried beneath the chancel window. Bound as an English clergyman by an oath of allegiance to the King, he resigned until after the war and then returned as rector, serving until 1787.

The congregation of St. David's

Tulford Team Tourney Scheduled at Narberth

Narberth's victories Saturday and Sunday over Wyndmoor led to a decision this week to engage in a best-out-of-three-game series with the Tulford nine, this season's champions of the North Penn League, considered to be one of the best ball teams in Pennsylvania.

Tomorrow (Saturday) Tulford will play Narberth at the borough's community playground, at 3:15 P. M. The following day Narberth's nine will invade Tulford, and if the two games result in a tie, a deciding game will be played next Saturday, September 28, in Narberth.

It is expected that the Tulford games will be the last of the season for Narberth.

For Sunday's game at Telford, a bus load of Narberth fans will leave at 1:30 P. M. from Davis' store.

Council Opposition Falls By Wayside; Dold Renominated For Tax Collector

Mower and Woehling Show Strength, Polling 641 Votes; Frye Encounters Last-Minute Opposition.

Despite over three hundred votes, polled by both dark horse candidates for Council, John A. Mower, Jr., and H. L. Woehling, in the primaries on Tuesday, the strength of the candidates standing for renomination was too great. Therefore unless one or both of the defeated candidates put up their names at the general election in November as independent candidates and achieve unexpected success, Messrs. Leitch, Hall, Kaerber and Wood will retain their seats in Council.

The contest for Tax Collector came out about as was expected with Edwin P. Dold leading Mrs. Louise Voss Cockrill about three to one. Mr. Dold's vote was 621 to 230 for Mrs. Cockrill.

Emma L. Mueller won the contest for assistant assessor in district number one with 154 votes as opposed to 133 for her chief opponent, Frank O'Brien. In the second district Ella R. Murray won the race for assistant assessorship with 228 votes. Next came Ada L. Haws with fourteen, while Frank O'Brien polled only three. A. D. Vandling and James B. Mountay each received one vote. In district number three Mrs. Mary Livingston polled 141 votes with only one each for her two opponents, Frank O'Brien and Isaac Casey.

One of the peculiarities of the election was the casting of one vote in both First and Second districts for Edward S. Haws for Council. There would be nothing irregular about this were Mr. Haws not a member of the present Council whose term has not yet expired. Perhaps this might be termed a "Vote of confidence" in the chairman of the Police and Fire Committee of the borough's governing body.

Some dissatisfaction was evidenced with the list of candidates for Council inasmuch as the names of eight others were written on the ballot. Messrs. William H. Durbin, Walton M. Wentz, Michael Collins, Francis T. Wood, William S. Howard, Dr. A. J. Denman, A. E. Wohlert and the aforementioned Edward S. Haws each received from one to two votes.

Also runs for Burgess were: A. E. Wohlert, 1; George R. Markle, 1; Dr. J. J. Schembs, 3; Harvey Cook, 1. J. Baird Caldwell polled 156 votes in district number three for judge of election. His opponent, Isaac Casey, received only two votes.

Numerous candidates were in the district number two. J. W. McAuliffe won the contest with 67 votes. Other candidates and their votes were: Horace B. Murray, 1; Fred Walzer, 2; John Bailey, 1; George Schroder, 1; Chester Tyson, 1; H. L. Woehling, 1; Albert Ripper, 2; Frank X. Purcell, 2.

Frank X. Purcell won the nomination for inspector of election in district number two with 39 votes. Other contestants were: C. C. Tyson, 9; W. H. Haws, 19; John A. Mower, Jr., 1; Elizabeth Neylon, 1.

Two hundred and twenty-eight votes were polled by Isaac McHose in district two for auditor. Opponents received the following: R. Gifford, 12; Daniel Hess, 1; Hervey C. Keim, 12; J. W. McAuliffe, 1.

Addison H. Durboraw won the nomination for judge of election in district three with 107 votes. Virginia M. Smith received 40 and J. F. Purse, 1.

Candidates for school director whose names were not printed on the ballot but who received votes were: P. B. Krout, 4; Lloyd B. Edgerton, 1; William S. Howard, 1; William H. Durbin, 1, and E. H. Wipf, 1.

Robert Mueller received 234 votes as candidate for inspector of election for the First district. Elizabeth Magarity, 8; Emma Mueller, 6, and Horace Smedley, 1.

J. Ira Thomas, candidate for Director of the Poor on the county ticket, received a considerable majority from borough voters.

The total vote in the borough closely approximated 900, which is comparatively light when contrasted with 2300 cast last November at the Presidential election.

Weather Was Better
Considerable improvement was noted in the weather during the week ended September 16, according to Main Line Weather Observer Charles Decker, of Narberth. The highest temperature for the week was 89 and the lowest 50. Four clear days and one only partly cloudy are more what one can rightly expect of September. Saturday saw a heavy rain, however, of .79 precipitation.

Sixtieth Anniversary

An exhibit and social will be held by the Woman's Foreign Missionary Society of the Methodist Episcopal Church next Thursday evening at 8 o'clock in the basement of the church.

The event will celebrate the sixtieth anniversary of Methodism's Missionary Society. Many articles sixty years old will be on exhibition. All members and friends are invited to attend, and a silver offering will be presented.

Westbound Hobo Meets Death at Narberth Bridge

A vagrant, about 35 or 40 years old, was terribly burned and instantly killed when the west-bound freight car on top of which he was riding brought him in contact with a high-tension wire beneath the Narberth Avenue railroad bridge shortly before 9:30 P. M. Wednesday.

Four firemen rushed over from the Narberth Fire House and tried to resuscitate the body, which had fallen from the car. The train was uncoupled and halted, delaying Main Line traffic on its track until the body was removed to a hearse, to be taken to Frankfield's parlors in Ardmore.

It is surmised the man had boarded the train somewhere west of Fifty-second Street, taking a ride west.

Main Line Repertory Prepare For Season

Six Plays to Be Produced Include Barry, Shaw and O'Neill.

TO HOLD TRYOUTS SOON

The Main Line Repertory Theatre, which closed a very successful first season last June with the production of "The Romantic Age," is busy with plans for its second season, which will open on October 22 and 23. The executive committee at a recent meeting decided to produce six plays during the period between October and June. "The Circle," by W. Somerset Maugham, has been announced as the first play. Try-outs for parts will be held on Monday evening, September 23, at 8 o'clock, in Cunningham's Barn, Rosemont, the headquarters of the group.

While the membership of the group has grown greatly since its beginning, the more extensive program makes possible the use of more members and the officers are anxious to enroll all persons along the Main Line who are interested in any phase of theatre work. Those who feel that they would like to join, according to information from the executive committee, are invited to attend the try-outs next Monday.

The theatre this year will be on a subscription basis and those who subscribe to the entire six plays of the season will secure their tickets at a reduced rate. A campaign is now on, under the direction of Miss Marion B. Sponsler, to secure enough subscribers to underwrite the season. Those who are interested, however, need not wait to be called upon, but may send their subscriptions to her, care of Cunningham's Barn, Rosemont. A subscription of $12 entitles the holder to two tickets for each of the six performances.

The play reading committee has selected ten plays from which six will be produced on Wednesday and Thursday evenings and the following dates have been selected: October 23-24, December 4-5, January 8-9, February 19-20, April 2-3 and May 21-22. The five plays other than "The Circle," the first production, will be chosen from the following: "Smilin' Thru," in which Jane Cowl starred; "The First Year," written and acted by Frank Craven; "Beyond the Horizon," for which Eugene O'Neill was awarded the Pulitzer prize a few years ago; "The Man from Toronto," in which Ruth Chatterton starred; "Mary Rose," by Sir James M. Barrie; "He who Gets Slapped," by Leonid of Julian W. Gardy, who staged mid Andreiev; "You and I," by Philip Barry; "The Wren," written by Booth Tarkington and in which Helen Hayes played, and "Arms and the Man," by George Bernard Shaw.

Local Building and Loan Completes Ninth Year

The Narberth American Legion Building and Loan Association has just completed its ninth year of activity.

The year was a very successful one and the earnings show a percentage of 8.89.

The twenty-second series will be opened at the regular monthly meeting of the association held on the first Tuesday of each month or October first next month.

During the past year the seventh and eighth double series were matured after seventy-eight monthly payments. The four double series matured to date have all been in this time. Another series will be matured in November in the same record time.

The popularity of double shares has increased during the last few years and a banner series is anticipated with the opening of the twenty-second series.

Both single and double shares will be issued at the next meeting. The payments for single shares are one dollar per month per share and twenty-five cents per share entrance fee, and for the double shares two dollars per month per share and fifty cents per share entrance fee.

Crash at City Line

When a Maxwell was struck by a Chevrolet at the intersection of Bryn Mawr Avenue and City Line, Bala, 3 P. M. Tuesday, both cars were slightly damaged, but no one was injured. The Chevrolet was driven by Norman Ellis, Roosevelt, L. I., and the other car was driven by Frank Gould, manager of the Cynwyd Garage.

Narberth Captures Bux-Mont League Crown Away Before Record Crowd

Writes on Audubon

Edward A. Muschamp, of Woodside Avenue, Narberth, author of "Audacious Audubon," a biography of the great naturalist, which is published tomorrow. Mr. Muschamp is a former newspaperman and more recently a frequent contributor to the country's best newspapers and magazines.

Egyptian Theatre Goes 'Talkie' Monday, on Second Anniversary

Monday will see the inauguration of sound films at the Egyptian Theatre, Cynwyd. The latest Western Electric sound system was installed by nine workmen this week at a cost estimated by Manager Joseph Conway of $20,000. A genuine Vitaphone-Movietone equipment, it is similar in design and construction to the sound units in Roxy's Theatre, New York, and is the only one of its type in the Philadelphia district.

The "Broadway Melody" will be shown for the last times on the Main day; and the Fox Movietone Follies will be seen and heard in full on Thursday, Friday and Saturday. The new Western Electric system, which has been nationally advertised, is interchangeable for disc, film and non-synchronous accompaniments.

With this equipment it is possible, Mr. Conway declared, to show pictures in their entirety, instead of omitting sound sequences that do not "take" on cheaper recordings such as those heard in many community theatres.

The Egyptian, which was built and is owned and operated by Patrick J. Lawler, will celebrate its second anniversary on Monday.

Manager Conway has announced that he is resuming his children's parties on Saturday afternoons, with special subjects for children, including the first talking chapter play, or serial, whose premiere will take place in the near future.

Bowlers Will Meet and Elect Officers Tuesday

Its annual meeting and election of officers will be held by the Narberth Interchurch Bowling League at the Narberth Presbyterian Church Tuesday evening, according to an announcement made by President Hervey C. Keim. All league bowlers are urged to be present.

The schedule of games for the first series of the season will at that time be approved, in order that it may be published in Our Town next week. It is expected that the first game of the season will be played Friday evening, October 4.

Main Line Resident, Edward A. Muschamp, Is Author of New Biography on Great Naturalist

second, a great naturalist.

The reader is carried from the story of Audubon's birth and childhood through the pattern of his life, with all the individuality, audacity, and pure genius of the man skillfully portrayed. The volume is not only valuable biography—it is mighty interesting reading.

To the Main Line reader, whether he be a naturalist or not, this new book will be of keen interest, for a great part of the scene is laid at our very doorsteps.

Audubon's old Montgomery County home, Mill Grove, on the Perkiomen, a short distance from Norristown, has not only been preserved, but thanks to various members of the Wetherill family, in whose possession it has been for many years, is in excellent condition—

'Bill' Durbin Allows Only One Hit as Davismen Take 2d Flag in One Season.

JEFFRIES SHINES AT FIRST

By John Uberti.

In the third and deciding game for the championship of Montgomery County, played at Wyndmoor last Sunday, "Bill" Durbin turned in a one-hit triumph to subdue the Buxmont League champions, 5-1, thereby winning the title in a two-out-of-three playoff. Wyndmoor won the first contest by the score of 3-2, while the home club took the other two, 10-9 and 5-1.

The greatest audience that ever saw a ball game at the Wyndmoor Ball Park, estimated at 1500, one-third of which were loyal supporters from the borough, witnessed the interesting and tense combat that gave the Davismen another pennant. Donned in overalls with spade and hoe in hand, the 1000 farmers from the desolated town of Wyndmoor saw a sight never before seen on that field. They saw the Main Line League monarchs ensnare the game in real baseball fashion.

It was another impressive victory for "Bill," who incidentally holds an important win over the highly-touted Santop's Bronchos. On five occasions the rival clan went down in order before Durbin's anointed ball, while three errors and two passes were the only other means by which the Wyndmoor Club reached base. With the exception of the sixth inning, when the rivals put over their only run, and that by virtue of a local blunder, not one alien player could get as far as second base.

Jeffries, to whom goes part credit in the vanquishing of the Wyndmoor nine on Saturday, was a busy and stellar performer of the day for this contest inasmuch as he set a new high at first with sixteen putouts. The fact that Durbin and Babb executed eleven that gave Jeffries the sixteen putouts is proof enough that the few rival batsmen who found themselves fortunate to touch Durbin's speed were never menacing to the Main Line champs.

Narberth opened the attack on the Wyndmoor Club with gusto in the very first inning by scoring the sum of three runs off as many hits. Mulligan, lead-off man, reached first on Mastroni's blunder and Burns followed suit on an infield bingle and when Heckle's admittance was made possible by Mahoney's error the lanes were somewhat occupied with eager base-runners. Babb struck out, but Fleck splashed a timely bingle to right-field, shipping in Mulligan and Burns. Jeffries singled to right, Heckle counting, but was run down off the keystone in the attempt to purloin the bag. Reape to McGough. Curwin grounded out to McGough.

Narberth then went scoreless and hitless until the fifth, at which time they bunched another trio of hits to score one run. Thomas and Durbin both singled and Thomas brought the score to 4-0 when he cantered over the pentagon off Mulligan's single to left-field. Burns sacrificed both runners up one base and Heckle walked. Babb, however, raised a lame fly to Nonneman, and Mahoney ousted Fleck, unassisted.

Wyndmoor took advantage of an error in the seventh and barely averted a shut-out defeat. Reape reached the hassock on Mulligan's error and went to the keystone on Mahoney's sacrificial bingle. Kinsella was thrown out.

Bouquets Exchanged

Philadelphia, Sept. 16, 1929.
Dear Sir:

I wish to extend to you, your players and the officials of your club my heartiest congratulations on their victory over the Wyndmoor Baseball Club, the champions of the Buxmont County League.

Although many heated arguments arose during the progress of the three games, I am sure that you will agree with me that the keen competition and tenseness of the close games was the cause of the outbursts and that they were all settled in the most satisfactory manner to all concerned.

The clean sportsmanship of the players of the Narberth Club was a credit to the game and it is my hope that the champions of my league will again meet your club in 1930.

The players of the Wyndmoor Club join me in stating that the best club won the series and I hope that through this series it will cement the friendship between the two clubs and two leagues and that we can again put such a series before the public.

Wishing you and your club the best of success, I remain

Yours very truly,
AUGUST C. RANGNOW,
President, Buxmont County Baseball League.

September 18, 1929.
Mr. August C. Rangnow,
Pres., Buxmont County Baseball League.

Dear Mr. Rangnow:

Your letter of the 10th addressed to the manager of the Narberth Club, which I acknowledge, is most timely and I wish to advise you that in all of our games with Wyndmoor the entire Wyndmoor Club showed real sportsmanship at all times in these keenly-contested games and it was certainly a pleasure for the entire club to play the series with your Wyndmoor Club. If in another year Narberth is champion of the Main Line League, we will be glad to further cement our friendship between your league and the Main Line League by playing the series with the winners of your league.

While the writer has not met the players or teams of the other clubs in your league, he wishes to compliment you on the type of boys playing on your Wyndmoor Club, as these are the kind of real sportsmen and ball players who make the game what it is, and in your Wyndmoor Club you have not only a bunch of mighty fine boys, but also a bunch of mighty good ball players and a team which will give any club that they meet a ball game.

Wishing you, the Wyndmoor Club and also the Buxmont League the best of success in 1930, I am,

Sincerely yours,
NARBERTH BASEBALL CLUB,
C. E. Harnden, Sec'y-Treas.

Hedgerow to Present
O'Neill's 'The Hairy Ape'

As its eight performance at the Little Theatre in Berwyn on Wednesday evening, September 25, The Hedgerow Theatre will present the well-known O'Neill play, "The Hairy Ape." This play, a symbolic fantasy, half realistic and half grotesque, is considered one of the most interesting of all the O'Neill plays. First produced in March, 1922, by the Provincetown Players in New York, "The Hairy Ape" did much to establish O'Neill as the foremost American playwright in this generation of theatre-goers.

"The Hairy Ape" has been compared with O'Neill's "The Emperor Jones" in construction. Similarities are present in the series of short and striking scenes, and in the symbolism of the central idea in the figure of one man, but unlike "The Emperor Jones," "The Hairy Ape" is never pure monologue, except in the last scene. Where the central idea in "The Emperor Jones" is fear, in "The Hairy Ape" it is class consciousness aroused in the mind of Yank, a stoker on a ship. Yank is content with his lot until a lady visitor from the upper deck comes to see "how the other half lives and works" and shows her utter amazement and disgust of Yank. It is this incident which makes Yank suddenly conscious of the other half and sets him on the track of revenge against the lady, only to discover that it is the whole social order of things that he must combat. He no longer "belongs" with the class he came from, nor can he "belong" in the various environments he contacts. An idea implanted in his mind that he resembled a hairy ape obsesses Yank and leads him to the zoo where in a tragic denouement he finds that he does not even "belong" with the gorilla.

In eight short and strikingly effective scenes, the audience is taken to the stokehole, the upper deck, Fifth Avenue, prison, I. W. W. headquarters

By E. E. E.

A very noticeable lull in social activities brings home to us the fact that the time for play is over for a while, at least for among the school sets, thoughts and time centre around studies and preparation for college, while fall housecleaning and decorating occupy great prominence in the younger married sets.

The town will surely seem depopulated by the end of the month when all the college students will have returned to points North, South and West. To "way down East" will go Miss Katharine Smith, daughter of Mr. Frank C. Smith, of Gulph Road, who left Sunday for Mt. Holyoke College, in South Hadley, Massachusetts. Miss Mina Lyle, of Avon Road, re-enters Mt. Holyoke for her junior year, and Rosalie Shaw left Wednesday to enter the sophomore class of that college.

Mrs. H. G. Reeves, 3 Windsor Avenue, motored to State College, Pa., on Wednesday to take her daughter Sue and Carolyn Ridge (both of whom graduated from Lower Merion in June), and Shirley Thorpe, of East Orange, N. J., to Penn State College, where they will enter the freshman class. Miss Thorpe is a niece of Mr. Howard Cappell, of 12 Narbrook Park.

Ellen Shaw, of Merion, will re-enter Bryn Mawr College for her sophomore year, and other second-year college students are Elma Reese, Hampden Avenue, who, you know, goes to Temple, and Mildred Odiorne, of Grayling Avenue, who is a Drexel Institute student. Esther Kercher, of Iona Avenue, is a freshman at Temple.

Miss Helen Cuthbert, formerly of Narberth, has enrolled in the Pratt Institute, in New York.

To Wilson College will go Dorothy Clevenger, Madeline Baughman and Mildred Gillilan, all recent graduates of Lower Merion.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Davis celebrated their thirty-fifth wedding anniversary Wednesday and received congratulations from many friends.

The W. G. Casners have returned to their home at 303 South Narberth Avenue from vacationing in New Hampshire.

Mr. and Mrs. Boyd T. Barnard, of Avon Road, motored this week to Kingston, Ontario.

Mrs. R. M. Villger, of Avon Road, entertained Mr. and Mrs. Clarence H. Woolington, Mr. and Mrs. Charles A. McEntiney and Mr. and Mrs. William C. Griffith Monday evening at her home.

Commander Charles H. Shaw and family have returned to their home on Avon Road, from Amherst, Mass., where they spent the summer months on their farm on the old Bay Road.

Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Simons, Miss Doris Simons and Mr. Walter Simons, of 511 Dudley Avenue, were week-end guests at Colton Manor, in Atlantic City.

Mr. and Mrs. George Gilpin, Jr., of Red Lion, Pennsylvania, are vacationing at Colton Manor, in Atlantic City, and will be guests of the Simons family.

Mrs. Charles Haist and Miss Florence Haist, also of Wynnewood.

Mrs. Robert S. Gutelius is visiting her daughter, Mrs. E. C. Town, of Narberth Avenue.

Mrs. E. C. Griswold and daughter Eunice, of 1 Chestnut Avenue, are home from a delightful summer's vacation at Westport, Connecticut.

Mrs. Andrew Greene and children, 5 Chestnut Avenue, are home from Ocean City, where they spent the summer.

Mr. and Mrs. Earle D. Dickie, of Forest Avenue, are spending the month of September in San Francisco.

Miss Dorothy Speck gave a surprise bridge party last Friday evening at her home, 2 Woodbine Avenue, in honor of her brother David, who celebrated his twenty-first birthday. The guests were the Misses Honora Snyder (who, by the way, leaves soon for Holton Arms School, in Washington), Hope Burlingame, Patience Wohler, Laura Winters, Margaret Longacre and Mina Lyle, Messrs. Lionel Perera, David Bevan, Everett Hemphill, Herbert Ensworth, all Haverford College classmates of David's, Robert Abernathy and Jack Bishop, of Oakmont, and Joseph Hughes, of Narberth. Miss Speck left early this week for Hood College, where we heard that her brother plans to enter the Penn Law School.

Mr. Louis Frank, formerly of Elmwood Avenue, is making his home with his daughter, Mrs. Warren R. Tyson, of 414 Haverford Avenue.

Mrs. Jesse Harris, 135 Merion Avenue, is visiting in Wildwood this week, and Mrs. E. K. Monnington, of Elmwood Avenue, is spending the week in Avalon.

Mr. and Mrs. Eberhardt Mueller, of Essex Avenue, are on a motor trip through the South, and Mr. and Mrs. Frank F. Leins, Jr., and their son Kenneth are motoring through Virginia.

Mr. and Mrs. John J. Cabrey and family, of Windsor and Narberth Avenues, have returned from Atlantic City, where they had been occupying their cottage for a few weeks.

The leading role of Yank is played by Harry Bellaver. A large supporting cast includes William Price, Alfred Rowe, Sue Platt, Jean Kritzer, Ferd Nofer, Milton Mandel, Jasper Deeter, Edwin Anderson, Walter Hart, Dudley Vaughan and Gretchen Anton-Smith.

unlike so many historic buildings. It is located just a few miles west of Norristown in the village of Audubon, formerly known as Shannonville, but renamed thirty years ago in honor of its most distinguished citizen.

Audubon came to Mill Grove soon after his arrival in this country from France, and the famous old farm-estate is today known the world over as "Audubon's First Home in America." Here he made his first drawings and paintings of American birds, here he made the first American experiments in "bird-banding," and here he met, fell in love with, and under the most romantic and dramatic circumstances courted and married Lucy Bakewell, who, as the author of "Audacious Audubon" writes, proved to be "as truly remarkable a young woman as was ever obscured by the overshadowing genius of her husband."

Audubon's experiences at Mill Grove played an intensely significant part in shaping his whole life and are the basis of several of the most interesting chapters in the new biography.

Mr. Muschamp, the author of "Audacious Audubon," was born in Camden, N. J., almost within the proverbial stone's throw of where Audubon took up his lodgings just a century ago; by a curious coincidence, a few years ago he lived for a period just around the corner from Audubon's old London lodgings on Great Russell Street near the British Museum. He became a newspaper reporter on the Camden "Daily Courier" at the age of 18, and then joined the staff of the old Philadelphia "Press," where he worked under the direction of the same editors who had given the late Richard Harding Davis and Ralph D. Paine their first training in newspaper work; was associated with the Curtis Publishing Company for a number of years; later worked as an advertising writer in Philadelphia and New York, and in recent years has contributed articles and stories to many of the best known newspaper and magazines throughout the country.

Durbin to Jeffries. Mulligan's second blunder put McGough on, while Reape, who got on from his first transgression, dashed over the plate by means of his second error. Fleishner blanked.

"Gene" Davis' commanders made sure of victory by scoring once more in the finale. Thomas dispatched a fly to centre-field. Durbin made first on Reape's error while Mulligan also gained first as McGough fumbled his grounder. Burns doubled to right-field, scoring Durbin for the fifth run. However, Mickey was run down off second. Babb strolled, but Fleck popped to shortstop.

Federation of Churches

Reports on Summer Work

The regular monthly meeting of the executive committee of the Main Line Federation of Churches was held at the Memorial Building, Bryn Mawr, on Tuesday evening, September 17. Dr. Andrew Mutch presided.

A minute of appreciation for the long and faithful services rendered to the organization by the Rev. George Calvert Carter, former rector of the Church of the Redeemer, Bryn Mawr, was read and approved.

Inasmuch as the organization will not be a beneficiary of the Bryn Mawr Horse Show, as formerly, and the treasurer, E. V. Hartshorne, reported funds to be very low, ways and means of raising money were discussed.

Miss Harriet Willey, graduate of Wellesley College, was appointed to fill a vacant position on the staff.

Miss Alice Ambler, the executive secretary, reported that John Gale Ford, divinity student, having completed a summer term at the New York School of Social Work, was with the Federation for five weeks this summer. Mr. Ford was most enthusiastic about this form of community welfare organization.

Miss Bernetta Moorhouse, a Wellesley College student, also has been here for six weeks, as student volunteer worker, this summer.

There has been much sickness in the families in which the Federation has been interested this summer. This has necessitated an unusual amount of financial relief for the summer months.

In addition there were many other more serious problems that claimed the attention of the staff of workers.

Lower Merion First Squad Cut to Thirty; Al Mandes' Return Brightens Maroon Prospects

The 1929 football machine which is to represent Lower Merion Senior High School on the gridiron this fall is down to business. The squad, which numbers around eighty boys, has been divided and subdivided to make it possible for the coaches to best handle the situation and prepare the leading candidates for the first game of the season with Berwyn High School the latter part of September.

Coach Adam has retained about thirty boys on his first squad and with the help of Mr. Suloff, last year's Junior High mentor, expects to have a good team on the field for this opening game.

The last bit of good news to the followers of the Maroon is the fact that Al Mandes is definitely enrolled at the high school for his senior year. Al at first fooled the public and himself by enrolling at Randor High School. The old school spirit or whatever it was, changed the situation and Al is back running signals with the rest of his old teammates of last year. Lower Merion should benefit by Mandes' return and it gives Coach Adam another experienced back to help Captain Scott, Tip Peters and others.

Scott has been moved from the line to play fullback this season, and as he has had a year's backfield experience, he should do well. The coaches have other boys who will lend quite a helping hand in toting the ball this year in Keith Parks, Frazier, Rockwell and Ramsey from last year's reserves, and Thomas, Ridge and Young from Junior High School. McLaughlin has been taken from the fullback position and is being used at center and his greatest opposition is Al D'Amora, first string end last season. Warren Lockwood and Hansell will take care of the end positions this year, and Latta, Rose, Warner, Turner and Lambert should improve steadily and make another good line for Lower Merion. Mr. James Davis is taking care of the second team again this year and with fifty boys on his squad there will be plenty of material for the regulars to whet their attack upon. The scrubs have already begun scrimmaging and the varsity group will start next week.

Simple Garden Wins Penn-Wynne Contest

Prizes Awarded This Week to Overbrook-Hills-in-Merion Resident.

OTHER AWARDS MADE

Although his garden was not the most elaborate in the town contest, a resident of Overbrook-Hills-in-Merion last week received the highest award because he had cultivated a small plot of unoccupied ground to the rear of his property.

Announcement of the winners was made at the meeting of the Overbrook-Hills, Penn-Wynne Civic Association at City Line and Haverford Road, at which Alfred P. Kelly, president of the association, presided.

The first prize was awarded to Albert Ward, 1418 Surrey Lane, in Overbrook-Hills-in-Merion. J. Heston Gardner, chairman of the Lawn and Garden Committee, announced that the judges had selected the winning garden because Mr. Ward cultivated and beautified a vacant piece of ground adjoining his property. The winning garden was flowered with portulacas, petunias, marigold and zinnias.

Second award was made to William H. Patton, 1450 Drayton Lane, Penn-Wynne, whose garden, in the opinion of the judges, "showed unusual color for this season and was an evidence of great care." Third place went to Joseph H. Chesterman, 10 Hargrave Road, Overbrook-Hills-in-Merion, whose selection of permanent flowers attracted the admiration of the judges.

The fourth prize was awarded to L. G. Andrews, 85 Rosedale Road, Overbrook-Hills-in-Merion, for an effective shade nook and an elaborate display of annuals.

The judges, none of whom reside in the two towns, were John B. Geraghty, of Lansdowne; Mrs. W. C. Purdy, of Glenolden, and Robert J. Edgar, of Narberth. The prizes were donated by McWilliams & Meloney, builders.

Trip Through Famous Catskill Mountains, an Ideal Week-end Tour Outlined by Auto Club

One of the most attractive week-end motor trips in the eastern section of the country is a journey through the famous Catskill Mountains. Here the State of New York has set aside a vast resort region of 576,120 acres, containing sections of unusual charm and scenic beauty, and along every foot of the way an ever-changing landscape is presented to the tourists.

Through this delightful region the Keystone Automobile Club has mapped a tour leading through the scenes of Rip Van Winkle's adventures, while further north, in the Cherry Valley section may be visited Cooperstown, the scene of Cooper's Leatherstocking Tales.

"While the tour has been planned as a week-end outing, the section through which the journey leads contains ample accommodation for stop-overs in all of the larger towns, and the travelers may easily extend the trip into a pleasant vacation jaunt if they desire," says Joseph Murphy, supervisor of the Automobile branch of the club.

From Ardmore the tour leads north through Norristown, where National Route 122 is met and right turn into this highway carries the tourists through Centre Square to Doylestown. Here the famous Lackawanna Trail, marked as National Route 611, is met and followed northward through Easton and the Delaware Water Gap to East Stroudsburg. A right turn into National Route 209 leads along the banks of the Delaware River to Port Jervis, N. Y.

Northward over National Route 6N, through Wurtsboro, the tour winds through attractive countryside to Kingston on the banks of the Hudson River. Here the famous Storm King Highway, National Route 9W, is met and used along the banks of the river through Saugerties to Catskill.

Catskill, a picturesque and historic old village, stands at the mouth of the Catskill Creek and is the gateway to the legend-laden lands where Rip Van Winkle is reputed to have taken his twenty-year sleep. Two fine concrete roads lead into the heart of this mountain country and from here side trips lead into the famous Catskill Park, lead to Kaaterskill, 3000 feet deep; Platterkill Gorge, a three-mile out in the mountain and Orchard Point, where on clear days a view of five States may be obtained. The route past the State park over State Route 29 leads through Jefferson Heights, with its charming vista of the mountains and the Hudson River Valley.

At Cairo, another attractive resort, the scenic Black Dome Mountain, rises 3900 feet in the distance. Amid highly scenic regions the tour passes through Windham to Prattsville, where can be seen Devasego Falls, said to be a miniature of the famous Niagara cataract. Westward through Grand Gorge, where Irish Mountain and Bald Mountain rise 3000 feet on either side, the highway narrows and fights for a foothold as it winds along the banks of a swift-rushing river. At the next town of Stamford the tourists will find a delightful centre for numerous trips into attractive surrounding country-side.

Amid picturesque scenery on every hand the journey continues through Davenport to Oneonta, once the site of Indian camping grounds. Here a right turn into State Route 7 leads to Cooperstown Junction, where a left turn into State Route 28 carries the travelers to the quaint village of Cooperstown at the southern end of Osego Lake. Here is the famous "Glimmerglass" country and a portion of the Cooper homestead, childhood home of the famous author, still stands. Northward along the lake shore the highway winds through Springfield Centre and intersects with the famous Cherry Valley Drive, now National Route 20.

Here a right turn leads over the excellent highway founded on an old Indian trail. Through Cherry Valley, Sharon Springs and Carlisle the road reaches Esperance, where one of the few remaining covered bridges spans the creek. Through Guildersland the travelers reach Albany. Here the Storm King Highway, National Route 9W, is followed southward to

Kingston, where the same route on which the tour started may be followed home.

Simple Garden Wins Penn-Wynne Contest

OTHER AWARDS MADE

Although his garden was not the most elaborate in the town contest, a resident of Overbrook-Hills-in-Merion last week received the highest award because he had cultivated a small plot of unoccupied ground to the rear of his property.

Announcement of the winners was made at the meeting of the Overbrook-Hills, Penn-Wynne Civic Association at City Line and Haverford Road, at which Alfred P. Kelly, president of the association, presided.

The first prize was awarded to Albert Ward, 1418 Surrey Lane, in Overbrook-Hills-in-Merion. J. Heston Harned, chairman of the Lawn and Garden Committee, announced that the judges had selected the winning garden because Mr. Ward cultivated and beautified a vacant piece of ground adjoining his property. The winning garden was flowered with portulacas, petunias, marigold and zinnias.

Second award was made to William H. Patton, 1450 Drayton Lane, Penn-Wynne, whose garden, in the opinion of the judges, "showed unusual color for this season and was an evidence of great care." Third place went to Joseph H. Chesterman, 10 Harrogate Road, Overbrook-Hills-in-Merion, whose selection of permanent flowers attracted the admiration of the judges.

The fourth prize was awarded to L. G. Andrews, 85 Rosedale Road, Overbrook-Hills-in-Merion, for an effective shade nook and an elaborate display of annuals.

The judges, none of whom reside in the two towns, were John B. Geraghty, of Lansdowne; Mrs. W. C. Purdy, of Glenolden, and Robert J. Edgar, of Narberth. The prizes were donated by McWilliams & Meloney, builders.

Trip Through Famous Catskill Mountains, an Ideal Week-end Tour Outlined by Auto Club

One of the most attractive week-end motor trips in the eastern section of the country is a journey through the famous Catskill Mountains. Here the State of New York has set aside a vast resort region of 576,120 acres, containing sections of unusual charm and scenic beauty, and along every foot of the way an ever-changing landscape is presented to the tourists.

Through this delightful region the Keystone Automobile Club has mapped a tour leading through the scenes of Rip Van Winkle's adventures, while further north, in the Cherry Valley section may be visited Cooperstown, the scene of Cooper's Leatherstocking Tales.

"While the tour has been planned as a week-end outing, the section through which the journey leads contains ample accommodation for stop-overs in all of the larger towns, and the travelers may easily extend the trip into a pleasant vacation jaunt if they desire," says Joseph Murphy, supervisor of the Ardmore branch of the club.

From Ardmore the tour leads north through Norristown, where National Route 122 is met and right turn into this highway carries the tourists through Centre Square to Doylestown. Here the famous Lackawanna Trail, marked as National Route 611, is met and followed northward through Easton and the Delaware Water Gap to East Stroudsburg. A right turn into National Route 209 leads along the banks of the Delaware River to Port Jervis, N. Y.

Northward over National Route 6N, through Wurtsboro, the tour winds through attractive countryside to Kingston on the banks of the Hudson River. Here the famous Storm King Highway, National Route 9W, is met and used along the banks of the river through Saugerties to Catskill.

Catskill, a picturesque and historic old village, stands at the mouth of the Catskill Creek and is the gateway to the legend-laden lands where Rip Van Winkle is reputed to have taken his twenty-year sleep. Two fine concrete roads lead into the heart of this mountain country and from here side trips into the famous Catskill Park lead to Kaaterskill, 3000 feet deep; Platterkill Gorge, a three-mile out in the mountain and Orchard Point, where on clear days a view of five States may be obtained. The route past the State park over State Route 23 leads through Jefferson Heights, with its charming vista of the mountains and the Hudson River Valley.

At Cairo, another attractive resort, the scenic Black Dome Mountain, rises 3900 feet in the distance. Amid highly scenic regions the tour passes through Windham to Prattsville, where can be seen Devasego Falls, said to be a miniature of the famous Niagara cataract. Westward through Grand Gorge, where Irish Mountain and Bald Mountain rise 3000 feet on either side, the highway narrows and fights for a foothold as it winds along the banks of a swift-rushing river. At the next town of Stamford the tourists will find a delightful centre for numerous trips into attractive surrounding countryside.

Amid picturesque scenery on every hand the journey continues through Davenport to Oneonta, one of the site of Indian camping grounds. Here a right turn into State Route 7 leads to Cooperstown Junction, where a left turn into State Route 28 carries the travelers to the quaint village of Cooperstown at the southern end of Osego Lake. Here is the famous "Glimmerglass" country and a portion of the Cooper homestead, childhood home of the famous author, still stands. Northward along the lake shore the highway winds through Springfield Centre and intersects with the famous Cherry Valley Drive, now National Route 20.

Here a right turn leads over the excellent highway founded on an old Indian trail. Through Cherry Valley, Sharon Springs and Carlisle the road reaches Esperance, where one of the few remaining covered bridges spans the creek. Through Guilderland the travelers reach Albany. Here the Storm King Highway, National Route 9W, is followed southward to

Kingston, where the same route on which the tour started may be followed home.

The "Chelten Kiltie" a sporty, practical Fall oxford for the Modern Miss

Every pair of Geuting's children's shoes is built over the Shoor-Tred last, to insure future foot-health for growing feet.

You will see the "Chelten Kiltie" this Fall everywhere the younger smart set assembles, at school and play. So important is it for one of school age to be up-to-the-minute in everything of approved fashion! It is a characterful brogue . . . in new Autumn brown calf . . . or in Autumn beige calf, brown calf trimmed. The smart center buckle prevents the "kiltie" from flapping. It is a shoe parents approve for its health-building features and youthful, sensible heel.

Lower Merion First Squad Cut to Thirty; Al Mandes' Return Brightens Maroon Prospects

The 1929 football machine which is to represent Lower Merion Senior High School on the gridiron this fall is down to business. The squad, which numbers around eighty boys, has been divided and subdivided to make it possible for the coaches to best handle the situation and prepare the leading candidates for the first game of the season with Berwyn High School the latter part of September.

Coach Adam has retained about thirty boys on his first squad and with the help of Mr. Suloff, last year's Junior High mentor, expects to have a good team on the field for this opening game.

The last bit of good news to the followers of the Maroon is the fact that Al Mandes is definitely enrolled at the high school for his senior year. Al, at first fooled the public and himself by enrolling at Randor High School. The old school spirit or whatever it was, changed the situation and Al is back running signals with the rest of his old teammates of last year. Lower Merion should benefit by Mandes' return and it gives Coach Adam another experienced back to help Captain Scott, Tip Peters and others.

Scott has been moved from the line to play fullback this season, and as he has had a year's backfield experience, he should do well. The coaches have other boys who will lend quite a helping hand in totting the ball this year in Keith Parks, Frazier, Rockwell and Ramsey from last year's reserves, and Thomas, Ridge and Young from Junior High School. McLaughlin has been taken from the fullback position and is being used at center and his greatest opposition is Al D'Amora, first string end last season. Warren Lockwood and Hansell will take care of the end positions this year, and Latta, Rose, Warner, Turner and Lambert should improve steadily and make another good line for Lower Merion. Mr. James Davis is taking care of the second team again this year and with fifty boys on his squad there will be plenty of material for the regulars to whet their attack upon. The scrubs have already begun scrimmaging and the varsity group will start next week.

UNCLE CY'S COLUMN

Imitation
I note with growing resentment the advertisements of Philadelphia tradesmen appearing in the metropolitan press in which they show an illustration of a genuine and expensive hat or pair of shoes and beside it offer their imitation at a greatly reduced figure. Would you ever buy things from that sort of store; I wouldn't!
Life is full of such inferior imitations. It is not reasonable to believe that one can obtain the same quality at one-fourth or one-third of the price. Why do first and second editions command a higher figure than the later impressions? The first editions are a curiosity for collectors and should not be considered as a commodity. The rest of the early ones are better in paper and clearer in print. The later ones are readable and serviceable, but not quite so fine.

People are often imitators. So many of them want to be what they are not, particularly in this caste-free democracy of ours. Thus we have the socially ambitious with $3.98 breeding trying to ape those of the $15.00 class. If we were simply a humble monarchy, a peasant could be a peasant and still be self-respecting; a tradesman would be satisfied to be a tradesman and would not want to, much less try to, crash the golden gates of the mythical, organized snobbery "Society," whose gates long since disappeared before the erosion of the influence of the dollar.

Many people, at many times, have accused me of being a snob. I suppose I am, of a sort, and I'd like to try to classify the sort. Farmers, laborers, gardeners, household servants, and all others of modest and humble occupation, I feel, are equals. I am fond of those near me, and they seem fond of me. I can talk with much more ease, understanding and warm sympathy to my colored cook than to Mrs. Something, who has just moved into the Main Line, and can't forget that she was Sadie Smith, waitress in Child's, not so many years before. Sadie is over-voiced, over-dressed, over-perfumed, over-mannered, mutual ground for friendship or contempt. She doesn't dare make friends for fear they will find her out. If she should meet me and you should ask her about me, she would say, "Oh, that Uncle Cy; I think he's an old snob."

Then I like people who are well-born and who have added to the rare gift of breeding a polish and culture that must be more or less self-applied with considerable rubbing from family and associates. Such people have a natural advantage which cannot be bought at any price and is as hard to destroy as it is to obtain. However, among well-bred people we find many who have allowed such a sacred heritage to go unutilized. Their only topics of conversation are Prohibition and ways to avoid it, golf, gambling, and other barroom talk, particularly jokes. Among the women of this class there is another topic or two such as bridge or antiques. Of course I love the few who love and talk horses, and that is where I slip. These people depress me because they have the mental and social machinery all ready and they allow it to rust and wear out without ever being used. Their lives are spent in a futile search of happiness, which consists of going places and doing things that simply fatigue more than they stimulate.

If I know anything after some years around this earth, the greatest happiness comes from achievement, from help to a fellow man, from a calm and peaceful pursuit of worthy ends, whether of business, scholarship, agriculture, or what you will. The farmer has as much a chance at that as the steel magnate. The stableman may be as successful and contented at nightfall by an honest day's work as the editor of the Saturday Evening Post. Am I snobbish because I like people to be themselves?

Tells How to Prolong Vacation's Physical Vigor

"Among the majority of vacationists the idea seems to exist that once back in the old groove, nothing can be done to build up vigor and vitality until another fifty weeks have elapsed," says Dr. Theodore Appel. "Thus resigned to an illogical hopelessness many persons develop an indifferent physical attitude—and let it go at that. Which, however, is decidedly wrong."
"The cool, crisp, vitalizing days of autumn are just around the corner. And while one may not be able to walk along the seashore or in the deep northern woods until next summer, there certainly is no law against using the zesty atmosphere outside the home or office."
"As a matter of fact, nature likes to be treated with consistency; and conversely, dislikes being forced. In short, vacation possibilities from a physical welfare standpoint are actually greater in the establishment of the daily habit of a peppy one- or two-mile walk, in reasonable eating, in the minimization of artificial stimulants, and in adequate sleep than they are in the crowded and exciting fourteen days of pleasure which only too frequently build up one's body tone in theory only."

Private Schools List Improvements

New Home and Music Courses For Valley Forge; Episcopal Takes Over Estate.

Well-kept lawns and shrubbery that lay dormant for long months under the summer sun, old familiar dormitories and classrooms and new buildings just completed were the setting for a series of joyful reunions beginning on Monday and continuing till the second of next month. The private schools of the Main Line enjoy a reputation that attracts students from all over the United States and from a number of European countries.

This year there are reports of a number of changes and additions to the several campuses. The Valley Forge Military Academy opened Monday in its new environment, the former site of the Saint David's Golf Club. Extensive changes have kept workmen busy all summer and the result is the completion of the most up-to-date of barracks, mess-room, class-rooms and athletic field. The academy is also inaugurating a Department of Music, for which it has secured the services of Horace Entenken, tenor soloist of the First Presbyterian Church, Philadelphia, and William H. Trumbelston, organist at the Wayne Presbyterian Church, and pianist, Piano, voice, violin, theory, harmony, history, sight-reading and singing will be taught. A Glee Club will be organized.

The Friends' Central School, Overbrook, also opened Monday with a new stage addition to the gymnasium and the completion of a new classroom and lunchroom. There are also improvements to the athletic field.
On Wednesday the Episcopal Academy, on City Line, began the new term. The Academy purchased last spring the Samuel Robinson Estate on Latches Lane. The estate, consisting of five acres, has been considerably changed to fit in with the needs of the school. Numerous alterations have been made in the main building to make it suitable for classes. The garage has been converted into a dining room and kitchen and is now connected with the main building by a large playhouse, newly erected. An innovation will be the establishment of a first grade this year. The Academy opens with an enrollment of 580 boys and a faculty of forty-five. Lambert F. Whetstone becomes assistant headmaster in the middle school this year to replace Dr. Albert H. Lucas, resigned to become headmaster of the St. Albans School in Washington.

The Haverford School opened with a capacity enrollment, the upper school yesterday and the lower school on Monday. A number of alterations have been made in the junior school building.
The Montgomery School opened yesterday with an increased enrollment and a few changes in its faculty. Chester G. Curtis will take the position in English vacated by Archibald MacIntosh, who resigned to become assistant to President Comfort, of Haverford College. Mr. Curtis is a Yale graduate and for the last four years has resided in Japan as exchange professor in the University of Tokio. The Art and Crafts Department will become an important part of the school's life this year with the appointment of Miss Florence Beeley as full time instructor in that field. Tennis courts have been built during the summer and about fifteen members of the football squad have already reported to Coach Arnold and were in training at the camp of Dr. Henry Pleasants in Maine before the opening of school.

Motor Victim Abroad

Mrs. Duncan Stewart Ellsworth, widow of a prominent banker, was killed Thursday in an automobile accident at Montefalco, near Trieste, Italy, according to word received on Saturday. A brother of Mrs. Ellsworth, Alexander Hutchinson, of New York City, suffered a fractured skull.

Mrs. Ellsworth was the mother of Mrs. Virginia McFadden, of Rosemont, widow of Barclay McFadden, Philadelphia cotton merchant and sportsman, who died in England two months ago, from injuries received in a polo match, played while taking a vacation with his wife and two children.

Residents Protest Bala Trolley Change

Demand Hearing by Public Service Commission on Route 70 Cut.

MANY SIGN PETITION

Led by former Congressman John R. K. Scott, residents in the vicinity of Fifty-fourth Street and City Line Avenue have petitioned the Public Service Commission for a public hearing for the purpose of registering protests against the curtailed trolley service and the inconvenience caused by the shortening of Route No. 70. Curtailling of the trolley line at Fifty-fourth Street and the elimination of the Bala terminus prompted Mr. Scott and other property owners to sign the petition asking for an early hearing before the commission.

The signers protest that inconvenience has been caused by the creation of a loop for newer cars which are operated on Sundays as one-man cars. The abbreviated service was started a week ago when the Bala line was shortened by 700 feet. The route which formerly ended at City Line now has its terminus on Fifty-fourth Street, a few yards north of Overbrook Avenue. Cars which were formerly designated "Bala" have been changed to "54th & Overbrook." Residents on Rexford Road particularly object to the creation of the loop as noisy and unsightly.

The petitioners hope the Public Service Commission will grant a hearing within a week at which time the Wynnefield Improvement Association and other organizations of the section will add to the protests. Numerous protests have come from people living across City Line who must now walk 700 feet over an unpaved road. Business men and store proprietors near the newly-created loop declare the change has been harmful to their business.

Wyndmoor's 7 Runs Matched in Ninth; Game Goes 14 Innings.

JEFFRIES' HIT IS TIMELY

By John Uberti.

"Gene" Davis' Main Line champions showed their true mettle last Saturday by slowly but determinedly tightening the wide gap of nine runs Wyndmoor held to deadlock the situation in the ninth and win out in the fourteenth inning. Jeffries, of the Reading Club, who replaced Martin on first, although ineffective with the hickory throughout the contest, atoned for his no-hit performance by blasting the winning run of the game in the final, and giving the league commanders due victory, 10-9. V. Fleck brought over the run of triumph from second base.

Again it was the game Howard Graham on the peak who won sweet vengeance for himself for his 3-2 defeat of the previous encounter, raising his total of pitching wins to fourteen. The Buxmont Leaguers' seven-run spurt in the opening frames failed him; not even the jeering and nerve-racking boos which would have taken any other moundman off his feet, all failed to dishearten the distinguished prince of pitchers who came from behind, slowly but surely, to master the whole perplexing situation. Graham, in the final session, was the picture of robust strength, the image of a great pitcher and finally the victor of the most tense exhibition of baseball seen for many years.

The Buxmont putters got off to a fine start by leading together the sum of four hits to score five runs and raised the count to seven in the subsequent session.

Babb's two-bagger to left in the third to score Mulligan proved to be the beginning of a gallant rally and when they scored thrice in the fourth they had meliorated their opportunity to stage the rally. Gillilan singled to left-field, but Jeffries struck out. Curwin, the eagle-eyed star outfielder, again took the usual pass and Graham walked also to fill the coigns. Mulligan was the third local man to gain a ticket, forcing Gillilan home, and Curwin and Graham both cantered over the plate off Burns' double to right-field, but Mulligan was caught off third on Denby's assist from right field. Heckie walked, but Babb popped to the "backstop."

Wyndmoor increased their bulk of runs in the sixth to nine when a homeric blow by Mahoney meant two runs, Reape, who has previously singled, crossing ahead.

However, this gallant attack was immediately checked from the ninth on, and, until the final frame, the champions of the Buxmont League went down one-two-three each inning.

Then came the lucky ninth for the home club when they bunched their four hits for two runs. Mulligan singled to left and Burns sent a one-bagger to center-field. Heckie cracked a hard double to left-field, Mulligan scoring. Heckie was caught trying to steal the keystone. Babb singled to center, Burns counting. Fleck raised a sacrificial fly to right and Gillilan was thrown out, Mastroni to Mahoney.

Narberth had the upper hand on the visitors throughout the overtime struggle, amassing four bingles, while Graham allowed only one, and leaving four men on the bases, while Noneman, who touched Graham for the only nick, was left on the Wyndmoor clank.

Then in the fourteenth inning, after three hectic hours of vigorous combat, the champions of the Main Line League copped the game with only one out. Fleck singled to left-field and went to second on Gillilan's sacrifice. Jeffries, who had gone hitless all day, garnered his first bingle to score Fleck with the winning run and victory.

Friends' Central School

Is Scene of Wedding

A charming wedding ceremony was conducted on the campus at Friends' Central last Saturday afternoon when Miss Elizabeth Rex and Mr. Lester S. Thomas were united in marriage by the Rev. N. R. Melhorn, of West Philadelphia. The wedding was held under the trees on the front campus of the school. Small arbor vitae blending with the low branches of a huge beech tree formed an effective background for the pretty bridesmaids and the young men ranged about the bride and groom.

The bride was given away by her father, Mr. Percival T. Rex. Mr. Rex is assistant principal at Friends' Central School, where he has taught twenty-eight years. His daughter was graduated from the same school in 1925 and from Wilson College in 1929. She was prettily dressed in white, a beautiful cluster of orange blossoms were fastened in her hair from which a veil hung nearly to the ground. She carried a large bouquet of roses and lilies-of-the-valley.

Miss Sara Abigail Mercer, a school and college classmate, was maid of honor. The bridesmaids were Miss Betty Brady, another college classmate; Miss Agnes Willis, for seven years a camp associate with the bride, and Miss Gladys Thorpe, a close friend of the bride.

The groom was graduated from the University and is the director of Camp Songhawk at New Preston, Conn. The bride and groom will spend the winter at Cranford, N. J.

Scout Mothers Get Rotary Commendation

Adopt Resolution Expressing Appreciation of Their Guidance.

Scout Mothers Get Rotary Commendation

The following resolution commending the mothers of the Ardmore Boy Scouts who attended the international jamboree in England was adopted recently by the Ardmore Rotary Club:

WHEREAS, The community of Ardmore has been honored in being represented at the twenty-first anniversary of the creation of the Boy Scout movement at the Grand Jamboree held at Arrowe Park, England, by a selected group of Boy Scouts;

And Whereas, in order to the Boy Scouts to act as such representatives of their troop, it was necessary for each Boy Scout to merit that honor by living up, in the highest degree, to the rules and regulations of the organization, of which they are such worthy members;

And Whereas, the Ardmore Rotary Club, No. 2162, recognizes the merit of the Boy Scouts who were found worthy of such attendance, and feels that whatever of excellence and manliness they have attained is really and truly due to their respective mothers, and that in honoring the Boy Scouts the source and inspiration of their conduct should not be overlooked or dimmed, and that the community in which we live owes a debt of gratitude to the mothers of the Scouts;

And Whereas, this club desires not only to express its appreciation to the Scouts of what they have done, but also to convey to their mothers the appreciation of the community and the club for the rearing and guidance through which their sons have been able to attain such excellence and manliness.

THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED by the Ardmore Rotary Club, No. 2162, in regular meeting assembled, that they desire, and do hereby express the appreciation of the club and of the community at large to Mrs. Ninita D. Barkman, Mrs. Adelaide Cahill, Mrs. Alberta B. Conner, Mrs. Mildred Esty, Mrs. Marie H. French, Mrs. Jean I. Gordon, Mrs. E. H. McColl, Mrs. Lily Esther McIntyre, Mrs. Ida H. Owen, Mrs. J. H. Quinn, Mrs. Ruth C. Sutton and Mrs. V. S. Wannersten, mothers of the Scouts, who represented this community at the grand jamboree; that we are indebted to them for the fine examples of boyhood they have furnished to the community, and that this club hopes and expects that the boys will continue to follow their mothers' teaching, so that they shall grow into worthy men, good and true citizens, and, which would necessarily follow, good Rotarians.

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED: That these preamble and resolutions be spread in full upon the minutes of this meeting and a copy thereof presented to the above mentioned mothers.
